

In this issue

Issue 228 Summer 2026

92

Compass

11 Editorial

Subjects new to HALI's pages, major openings at LACMA and the National Trust's celebration of historic textiles

25 Dialogue

New milestone in tapestry conservation; HALI's 50th anniversary celebrations; Restoring the San Isidro embroideries; Lost Tudor tapestry returns to Oxburgh Hall; The Hampton Archive returns to Papua

28 Diary

HALI's recommendations for the quarter

31 Calendar

Auctions, exhibitions, fairs and conferences

32 Thread of time

Rachel Meek
Two 16th-century weavings displayed at King Edward VII's coronation are linked by the schemes of powerful art dealers

34 Anatomy of an object

Hratch Kozibeyokian
An inscribed and dated Caucasian dowry rug invites a reading through ceremonial sequence, protection and matrimonial symbolism

36 Common thread

A selection of ornate items affiliated with the joys, traditions and politics of matrimonial ceremony

Features

40 The Khan's new clothes

Karina Duebner
The complex story and truth behind the embroidered suede robes of Kazakhstan

54 A shaggy rug story

Daniel Shaffer
Richly coloured long-piled rugs made by nomadic groups in the Zagros mountains

60 The radical conservationists

Ben Evans
The National Trust brings illumination and interrogation to aspects of Britain's past

66 Hanging by a thread

Lucien de Guise
Textiles of Palestine preserve the memory and identity of a vanished world

74 Go with the flow

Ben Evans
LACMA's new David Geffen Galleries' radical approach shows confidence in visitor intelligence

146

88

110

82

An adventurous scholar

Cosima Stewart

Jenny Housego's remarkable life and scholarship

88

Show houses

Michael Peter

'At Home in Late Antiquity' reveals domestic surroundings of the distant past

92

Elaborating on embroidery

Fuchsia Hart

Textiles from Afghanistan highlight a rich and diverse heritage

100

Unpicking assumptions

Victoria D. Sluka

Are cherished views of nomadic weaving in Central Eurasia based on myth and supposition?

106

An enigmatic tradition

Camille Khairallah

A forthcoming book explores a unique tradition of rug making that flourished in rural Lebanon in the 19th century

110

An inspired drama

Thomas Murray & Gerhardt Knodel

An American fibre artist's decades-long passion for collecting Indonesian textiles

118

The Kuba aesthetic

Vanessa Drake Moraga

The Western reception of Kuba textile design and its influence on early modernist arts in Europe

126

Signature style

Stefano Ionescu

Rare Oltenian kilims donated to the National Museum of the Romanian Peasant are considered to be the pinnacle of local folk art

128

Coats of many colours

Alan Kennedy

The distinctive art of rural Chinese patchworks showcased at Boston's Museum of Fine Arts

134

Conduits of culture

Janet Marion Purdy

The SWANA region's trade networks transmitted ideas, beliefs, materials and techniques

Reviews

140

Exhibition reviews

'Everything Flows', Exeter College, University of Oxford; 'Woven Threads: Masterpieces of Textile Art from Bali to Timor', MUSEC, Lugano, reviewed by Fiona Kerlogue

Marketplace

146

Auction preview

'Three Distinguished Collections', Grogan & Co

148

Exhibition preview

A display of Diné weavings at the Whitehawk Antique Indian & Ethnographic Art Show

149

Auction price guide

International auction results of note

160

Last page

Van Cleef & Arpels jewellery meets treasures from the MAK collection

